E. Heske, running the old Stoddard place in Mazeppa township, "hiked out" for parts unknown last Sunday, leaving everything excepting a team of horses which he took with him to the mercy of his creditors. News of his leaving reached the South Shore creditors Wednesday and the following day all of them were in possession of enough stuff to square things up as far as they were concerned. Mr. Heske's family are staying at the Henry Thaves' home but are expected to join the head of the house when he alights again.

On October 30, Dr. Jacob Karn and Dr. Charles Bolsta opened a 17 bed hospital on Washington Avenue between Second and Third streets. Grand View Hospital. Miss Josephine Bolsta, R.N., a sister of Dr. Bolsta, was the first superintendent. In 1919, Dr. Charles Bolsta and Dr. Bert R. Karn transferred title of Grand View to the South Dakota Evangelical Church Society. It was called the Ortonville Evangelical Hospital until 1944, when the church transferred title to the property and the operation of the hospital back to Dr. Charles Bolsta and Dr. B. R. Karn. Drs. Bolsta and Karn, in turn, transferred the hospital to the City of Ortonville. In September 1944, the council passed an ordinance creating a hospital board. Dr. A. E. Pettingill was the first doctor in Ortonville.

Oct 17 1907 Grant County Review: BAD PRAIRIE FIRE

A strip of Country in the Hills Eight Miles Long by Four Miles Wide Swept Clean

One of the worst prairie fires that ever occurred in the county broke out Wednesday about three miles north of South Shore and swept wild and fierce across country to within a mile west of Twin Brooks where it was stopped at the railroad track and within a few rods of the buildings of the J. N. Safford Place. The extent of the fire was about eight miles long and four miles wide. With few fortunate exceptions all hay and straw stacks were burned and a large number of grain settings. Pastures were swept bare. A barn on the Chris Buchele place, one on the Jim Lockhart place and a granary on the old John Storm place were burned. Carl Pfeiffer lost six grain stacks and three hundred tons of hay. One farmer had four horses badly burned but there is some hope of their recovery. Reports vary as to the origin of the fire. One report is that sparks from an engine on the Great Northern road at South Shore started it. Another report is that it started by an old bachelor residing north of Stockholm who was burning a straw stack and that the fire got away from him. The eastern boundary of the fire was about two miles west of the old Indian church.

Stoddard/Fransen-Pugh/Morrissey Families: In the News

Farmers all over that section of country turned out with breaking plows water tanks, sacks etc to fight the fire, which was fierce and strong. The fire was confined to the hills and did not spread down into the flats. The losses in many instances will be severely felt by the unfortunate farmers who were in the track of the fire.

Oct 17th, 1907 Grant County News

Visit of Fire Fiend. Destructive Prairie Fire Lays Waste Thousands of Tons of Hay, Grain and Property in the Hills. Started in the Vicinity of South Shore, It Traveled Northward to Marvin and East to the Village of Twin Brooks.

[Probable] the most destructive prairie fire that has visited this section of the county for years raged Wednesday and today in Mazepa and Twin Brooks townships and as a result thousands of tons of hay, considerable grain in fields and several farm buildings lay in ashes and many acres of pasture are entirely destroyed.

The fire was started on the Potratz farm in Codington County, near South Shore, Wednesday afternoon and traveled with such rapidity that it reached Twin Brooks about 1:00 in the afternoon, having swept away everything in its path.

Everybody who was able got out and fought fire to save their lives and property and the fire was controlled before it reached the village of Twin Brooks.

It destroyed the buildings on the Busta farm one mile south and a mile west of the village together with several hundred bushels of barley and other feed, burned Willie Neckels flax which was stacked in the field, destroyed the buildings and hay and grain on the farm operated by Chas. Pfifer and thousands of tons of hay for others in the neighborhood among whom was Loren Jones and Chas Stevens.

At this writing it is impossible to give anything like an accurate account of the full damage suffered by the people of the burned district but it is safe to state that most of the hay in the hills was destroyed. Is impossible to tell whether there was much loss of livestock as authentic reports have not yet come in.

Fortunately there was not loss of life in the fire, which is almost wonderful considering the condition of the prairies. The entire tract was covered by a heavy growth of wild grass, dry as tinder.

The fire traveled with such rapidity that it was impossible to form any kind of firebreak to stop its advance. A strip of plowing a rod wide would not have stopped it, as the flames would jump many feet.

Oct 17th, 1907 Grant County News

The terrible prairie fire which swept this section of country yesterday and today has done much damage to the farmers and came very near wiping out the town. Every able bodied [sic] man and boy has been out fighting the fired fiend and much property in the country was saved by hard work. Nearly every bit of hay lying between South Shore and Marvin and east as far as Twin Brooks has been destroyed together with considerable grain and some buildings. It is to be feared that some stock also perished in the fire. At this time it is impossible to give an accurate account of the damage done. Will Neckels lost a stack of hay and his flax, Mrs. Busta, her grain, hay and buildings and very nearly her own life and her horses and cattle.

Stoddard/Fransen-Pugh/Morrissey Families: In the News

Chas. Pfifer also lost nearly everything he had. Mr. Sharf lost about 200 tons of hay and his pasture was entirely ruined. He has two or three hundred head of cattle and is left without any feed for them for the winter. Many others were heavy losers. The fire is supposed to have started on the Potratz farm in Codington County near south Shore. It is fortunate that human life was not added to the heavy loss as the prairie grass grows rank all over the hills and everything is as dry as timber.

October 18, 1907 Summit Signal

Prairie fires have been doing quite a bit of damage east of here. It made a clean sweep of about 75 square miles. Among those whose property was destroyed was HA Sharf, he lost about 200 tons of hay and a setting of oats.

October 23, 1907 Twin Brooks Summit Signal

The fire that passed through the hills last Wednesday was the worst and did more damage than any fire in the past ten years. It burned all the hay stacks from South Shore to Twin Brooks that were not protected with at least twenty rods of firebreak. Chas. Pfifer lost eleven stacks of wheat and Loren Jones six stacks of barley and four stacks of flax and Henry Busta lost his granary with about 600 bushels of grain.

January 8, 1909 Grandma Stoddard passes away

Mrs. Albin Stoddard passed away Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B.D. Southwick, 7 miles northwest of South Shore, after a week's illness from pneumonia. The deceased was the widow of the late Rev. Albin Stoddard, one of the early pioneers of Mazeppa Township, and had she lived until the fourth day of next March, she would have reached the ripe old age of 81 years, having been born on March 4, 1828. She is survived by a family of eight children, among whom are the following: George and Curtis Stoddard, prominent residents of Mazeppa; Mrs. B.D. Southwick, also of Mazeppa; Charles and Jean, who live in Minnesota; Mrs. Newell Emery, of Oregon; a daughter in Nebraska and a son in Colorado. All were present at the funeral except the last three named.

Grandma Stoddard was a good woman, firm in her Christian belief, and a noble, sympathetic, generous neighbor and friend. She has gone to her reward and her memory will be a cherished one to her children and all who enjoy her acquaintance. The funeral was held Thursday from the Zielsky schoolhouse and the remains were laid beside those of her husband in the Antelope Valley Cemetery. Rev. Ellis Grossley conducted the services which were largely attended in spite of the bitterly cold weather prevailing.

May 18th, 1909 Atlantic Evening: James Pugh is Thrown under Car at Rock Island Depot, Loses Right Arm and May be Fatally Injured as Result-Tried to Board the Engine.

James Pugh, aged twenty-one years, brother of John Pugh, who is employed in the office of Roadmaster Gibbs, and a son of John Pugh, Sr, formerly section foreman here, and is now of South Dakota, was badly, perhaps fatally injured at 10:50 this morning, when, in trying to board the switch engine at the local station of the Rock Island, he missed his footing and fell under a stock car the engine was hauling to the other end of the yards.

Stoddard/Fransen-Pugh/Morrissey Families: In the News

As a result of the accident, he lost his right arm at the shoulder, sustained a bad gash on the right hip and was bruised and shaken up terribly. His injuries may be fatal.

Pugh was standing at the depot, watching his brother, John Pugh, and Virgil Hayward, assistant baggageman, playing baseball. The freight train bearing the car containing the fire team for the Atlantic fire department had deposited the car at the west end of the yards and the switch engine running backwards, was taking the car which was hitched onto the pilot of the engine, towards the east end of the yards. As the engine and car came by the depot they were running at a high rate of speed. Pugh, with the intention of boarding the engine and riding down to see the horses unloaded, grabbed the rod near the pilot of the engine and tried to swing on. He missed his footing, and quick as a flash, was thrown under the car. The wheels must have passed over the shoulder, as the arm was hanging by mere threads of skin when he was picked up. He was also caught by the boxes on the trucks of the freight car and dragged for perhaps twenty feet. The engine was topped within three car lengths, and Engineer Smith, John Pugh, Virgil Hayward and others ran to the injured man's assistance. He was carried to the baggageroom and Dr Emmert, the company surgeon, was called. He did what he could at the baggageroom and later the injured man was taken to the hospital where Drs Emmert and Campbell looked after his injuries. The last report this afternoon was that he had hardly come out from the shock of the accident and it was hard to tell as to his chances for recovery but he may be said to be in serious shape and there is grave possibility of the accident having a fatal termination. He lost a great deal of blood and this fact has weakened him terribly. The young man has been employed by the Rock Island for some three or four years as an extra man, working on the section, braking and doing other things which were required of him. At the time of the accident he was not working. He is a member of the Hook and Ladder company of the fire department and has a host of friends who hope he may pull through and recover from the awful experience he passed through.

Last Rites Performed -Atlantic Honors Her Dead Firemen

Mortal Remains of James Pugh Consigned to Mother Earth Floral Tokens Many and Beautiful.

At the church of St.'s Peter and Paul this morning a large congregation assembled to join in the last solemn rites which the Roman Catholic Church holds for those who die in its faith. A solemn high mass was sung followed by a short sermon from Rev. Father Daly controlling the sorrowing relatives and directing their attention to the promises of the church and its Founder concerning those who believe in its teachings, follow its precepts, and die in its embrace.

The Atlantic fire department of which he had been an active, efficient and a valued member, attended in a body and escorted the remains from the residence on Locust Street to the church from the church to the station followed by a long procession of sorrowing friends and his former associates.

The pallbearers were members of the Phoenix Hook and Ladder company of which deceased had belonged and were: Richard Doran, Ira L. Rowe, Carl Roe, James Simonton, Carl Phares, and Bert Ramsey. Chief Snyder with 40 members of the department accompanied the remains on the journey to Neola and assisted in the last services at the cemetery there.

March 1913 Grant County News We understand that C.D. Stoddard was out marking a fox and a goose circle with his horse and sleigh after the snowstorm, but Fern says that is not the way they used to play it. (Fox and Geese- adapted from the book Plains Folk: A Commonplace of the Great Plains, by Jim Hoy and Tom Isern, published by the University of Oklahoma Press. No other recess game stirs such fond memories as does "Fox and Geese" because the game built upon the excitement engendered among children by new-fallen snow, which the game required. The players first tramped the snow in an open place into a pattern resembling a wheel with a hub and four spokes- if there were many players, the wheel might have two rims to accommodate them. Most of the players then were designated "geese" and congregated in the hub. One was called the "fox" and roamed about the spokes and rim of the snow--packed wheel. The idea was for the geese to run from the hub out the spokes, around the rim, and back another spoke to the hub, the fox in pursuit. The hub was a safe area for the geese. If the fox caught a goose, then the goose became another fox, and so on until all were caught.

While in from his Mazeppa farm Tuesday Curt Stoddard made the Republican office a pleasant call. Among other yarns, Curt told us that one day last week he killed a stray dog that exhibited alarming symptoms of hydrophobia. He first noticed the animal out in his pasture acting very queerly. It was having a genuine dogfight with an invisible foe, which Curt presumed might have been the devil. Not wishing to get mixed up in this kind of a row, he watched the dog until it came up to the yard. Noticing that it still acting groggy and was foaming at the mouth, he decided it would be best to put the critter out of business, so he shot it with a convenient two by four. So if anybody is missing a small black dog wearing a leather collar he will know what has become it. June 23, 1921 - Summit Independent Summit Voters say "Set Down Morrissey"

The annual school election for the Summit Independent District was held Tuesday. The vote cast, 209, was the largest in the history of Summit. Notwithstanding, P.S. Morrissey had for a long time circulated unfair and untruthful reports among the voters of the district and sought by deceit and misrepresentation to influence them. The members of the old Board of Education who were candidates, received a flattering endorsement. Those elected were:

Anton Prestwick 3 years

Anna C Smull 3 years

John Johnson 1 year

The defeated candidates were all men of highest standing, and not a word was said against them during the campaign. The question of the personality of the candidates was entirely lost in the question as to whether Morrissey and his methods should be endorsed. The answer of the voters will for a long time settle the question. The people in Summit have dwelt together in peace and harmony for a long time, the public questions which have come up have been settled without leaving any serious differences and honesty and good purposes have always been conceded to public officers. A good healthy rivalry for office is a good thing all around but the rivalry should be based upon principle and not to vent a personal grudge. The members of the Board of Education who are elected will enter upon their duties with experience and carry on the many reforms they have planned, the defeated candidates may be the lucky ones later on providing they are not encumbered with a manager whose every campaign has been a Waterloo and whose political methods the good citizens of Summit will not for a moment tolerate.

Golden Wedding Was Celebrated Friday: Friends Gather and Present Handsome Purse.

Fifty years is not a long time in the life of rocks or nations but to most of us mortals it is a very long and important period. When two young people in the bloom of youth join their lives and travel down life's pathway with its storms and trials and at the end of half a century their hearts are just a loving and their gray hairs are but evidence of long lives well spent their friends may well gather round them and make the event as happy as was the one 50 years before. It was with this idea that the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. John Pugh gathered last Friday and helped them celebrate their golden wedding.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. P.S. Morrissey at noon a splendid dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Pugh. This was attended by the near relatives of the couples and at 5 o'clock a lunch was served to neighbors and friends. The home was decorated in yellow and white and everything was done to make the guests of honor happy.

Little Ford Has No Chance with Big Car; Both Cars are Badly Demoralized, No One Hurt

Last Friday night when Frank Fransen was driving home in his Ford he had a serious collision with a Haynes car. It happened on the Trail near the slaughter house. Mr. Fransen did not see the other car until it was close to him and he tried to turn out but the other fellows turned the same way and the two cars came together with a terrific smash. The Fransen car was completely demoralized. The Haynes, which was not so badly damaged but it was have to be overhauled before it will be fit for service. It was extremely fortunate that no one was hurt.

Grandma Fransen Was 80 Years Old Saturday

Last Saturday, Grandma Fransen was eighty years of age and her relatives and friends gathered at the home of her son Chris Fransen and spent a very pleasant day with her. There were 3 children, Frank Fransen, Chris Fransen and Mrs. C.D. Stoddard and seven grand children and 10 great grand children. The families present were the C.D. Stoddard , George Stoddard, C. Pugh, Ray Pugh, F. Fransen, Ed Fransen, Geo Leinen, and Mrs. Roy Steenberg. Mrs. Katherine Fransen, or Grandma Fransen as she was affectionately called, was one of the very early settlers in Mazeppa township, Grant county and she has resided there continuously since the early days. Her children have been her comfort and they took this occasion to bring joy and gladness to her declining years.

Steve Morrissey and Harold Jons believe that there is a good opportunity to open a radio supply store in Summit. There is much general interest among the farmers and townspeople in the radio and many would install an outfit if they were sure they could get just the right thing and learn how to operate it. Steve and Harold have been studying it up and they are now prepared to furnish outfits and make them work satisfactory. They will also keep repairs on hand or get them at short notice. Anyone who is interested in the radio should see the boys. They can supply the local trace cheaper than outside concerns.

Mrs. John Pugh Ends Useful Life

Mrs. John Pugh, who has been very low for some time, passed away Friday evening, July 27th at her home in Summit. She has been ill for more than a year, and everything that the best medical skill could do failed to restore her failing health. The funeral was held Monday at St. Lawrence Catholic church at Milbank, Rev F. O'Neil officiating.

Mrs. Pugh was born in Ohio, Sept 18th 1854 and her childhood was spent there. She came west and on Oct 27, 1872, she was married to John Pugh at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Eleven children were born to their union of whom four are living They are Mrs. P.S. Morrissey of Summit, John B. Pugh of Iowa City, Iowa and Clem and Ray Pugh of Farmington township.

Mr. and Mrs. Pugh came to Dakota in 1907 and settled on a farm in Mazeppa township, they lived there until two years ago when they moved to Summit. Last October, Mr. and Mrs. Pugh celebrated their golden wedding and were the recipient of many congratulations. Besides her aged husband and children, Mrs. Pugh leaves a sister, Mrs. Fairly of Minneapolis and a brother and sister, John and Mary Merritt of Mechanicsville, Iowa. During their long married life, Mrs. Pugh was a loyal helpmate and her husband will sadly miss her. She was a devout Catholic, a loving wife and mother and kind neighbor and her wide circle of acquaintances will miss her. The entire community extends there sincere sympathy to the husband and family.

Aug 10th, 1923 Wilmot Enterprise: Saturday afternoon Chas. Brookshire's car left the grade on a 15 foot embankment, near the Sid Alan place and turned over once and a half before it stopped but did not injure any of the occupants, who were Ray and Clem Pugh and P.S. Morrissey besides Mr. Brookshire. They had been to Milbank to arrange the funeral of Mrs. Pugh and when they came to the grade it was slippery and they drove very slow. The wheels started to skid and notwithstanding Mr. Brookshire did everything he could do, the car went to the side and in a twinkling of an eye the deed was done. Messr's Brookshire and Ray Pugh were clear of the car when it stopped rolling and Clem and Morrissey were under it. In some miraculous way they all escaped with a few scratches. Aside from smashing the windshield the car was not damaged. A farmers team pulled it out and it came home on its own power. Some luck ----- Summit Independent.

August 14th 1924 Summit Independent SHARF'S TO OPEN IND. OIL STATION

Summit is to have an independent oil station. H.A. Sharf and Son, who have been agents for the Standard oil company have concluded that they could best serve their customers by handling oil as independent dealers so they have erected a warehouse on their property near their elevator and this week they are installing two 3000 gallon tanks. They will handle a full line of the highest grade lubrication oils as well as gas.

After a careful investigation they have selected "Firesure" gasoline, the highest grade Oklahoma product and the brand of gas they will sell and they feel sure this will please their customers better than any they have had.

Summit offers a fine field for an independent station and the consumers of gasoline will appreciate the competition which Sharf and Son will offer and patronize them liberally. The two tanks give them a capacity of 4 cars of gas. The two tanks are electrically welded and their equipment is the latest. Sharf and Son expect to be ready for business in a few weeks.

The citizens of Summit were much shocked Sunday morning by the news that P.S Morrissey had passed away at 5 o'clock. He had not been well for a long time and it was known his heart was not in normal condition, but no one anticipated the end was so near. Mr. Morrissey was up and around town Saturday and he seemed quite cheerful. He was taken sick about midnight with severe pains in the chest and Dr Sorose was called. All that he could do was to administer sedatives and make the patient comfortable as possible. Dr Sorose was called again around 2 o'clock and found the patient in intense pain. He gave him all the relief he could and went home He was called again toward 5 o'clock but when he reached the house it was too late. The funeral was held at the Milbank Catholic Church Tuesday and the interment was in the Catholic cemetery in Milbank. A large number of friends from Summit accompanied the remains to Milbank to pay their last respects. Beautiful floral offerings were sent by lodges and by the businessmen and by friends.

December, 1928, Summit Independent: Happy Party at Stoddards

Relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Stoddard on the 40th wedding anniversary. It was a happy party of relatives that gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Stoddard Sunday and completely surprised them. It was the 40th anniversary of their marriage, but little did they suspect the treat in store. Everyone brot a basket of good things and when the table was spread there was around thirty, including a liberal sprinkling of grandchildren. A fine set of dishes and other useful articles were left as mementos of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard were married in Mazeppa township, Grant county, just 40 years ago, and they have resided in the vicinity ever since. None are more highly esteemed or have more friends than this splendid couple. Through good and bad times, and cheerfully passing through the trials of pioneering they are now comfortably situated and it was indeed a pleasure for their relatives and descendants to honor them. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fransen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo Lienen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo Stoddard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Steenberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pugh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Pugh and family, Chris Fransen.

John Pugh was born August 15, 1842 in county Mayo, Ireland and died August 5th, at Summit, SD. Had he lived 10 days more, he would have been 87 years of age.. He came to the US at an early age and for a long time lived at Atlantic, IA. In 1872 he was married at Cedar Rapids to Julia Merritt whose death occurred six years ago. They moved to Farmington twp Grant county in 1909 where Mr. Pugh was engaged in farming. In 1919 they moved to Summit and have resided here ever since. Since the death of his wife, he has resided with his daughter, Mrs. Kate Morrissey. In November 1922 Mr. and Mrs. Pugh celebrated their golden wedding.

The deceased leaves to mourn his three sons, Clem and Ray of Farmington and John of Iowa City, Ia, and one daughter, Mrs. Kate Morrissey of Summit. There are 21 grandchildren and one great grand child.

He was a life long member of the Catholic Church and his funeral was held at the St Lawrence Church in Milbank, many of his old friends and neighbors from Summit and Farmington attending. He was interred beside his wife in the Milbank Catholic cemetery. John Pugh was a good citizen, a kind, faithful father and a faithful husband. His last years were a trial to him owing to the fatal disease which finally caused his death, but he bore his suffering with fortitude and faith in the future life.

During his early life he had many interesting experiences on the frontier and he helped build the Union Pacific Railway.

Curtis Stoddard Called by Death. Early Settler Passed Away on Sunday Morning, Funeral was held on Tuesday Afternoon.

Curtis D. Stoddard was born at Zumbrota, Minn., Jan 21st 1861. He was one of a family of eight children only two of whom survive him; they are George Stoddard of Mazeppa Township and Mrs. Ida Emery of Eugene, Oregon. As a young man he came to South Dakota and filed on a homestead in Mazeppa Township, Grant County, and resided on it many years. In 1888 he was married to Maggie Fransen and their many years of happy and loving companionship was blessed with four children, three of who are living, Mrs. Clem Pugh and Mrs. Ray Pugh of Farmington Township and Mrs. Chas. Fromke of Morristown, South Dakota. There are ten grandchildren.

After living a number of years on his homestead, Mr. Stoddard bought a farm in Farmington Township and the family lived there until 1919 when they moved to Summit, where they have resided since.

Mr. Stoddard passed away at the family home Sunday morning, March 16th. His faithful wife was with him to the last. He has been suffering from heart trouble for a number of years and this winter it became serious. He sought the best skill obtainable but received little aid and as the winter progressed he grew worse.

Curtis D. Stoddard, of "Curt" as he was familiarly known, was a model citizen. A kind and loving father and husband, a liberal provider, his home was indeed a happy one. He was the soul of honesty and generous to family and friend. Although not allied with any denomination, he contributed liberally to religious purposes. During his long residence in this vicinity he filled many public positions of trust with fidelity and efficiency.

When Mr. Stoddard came to South Dakota it was a land of prairie and scantily settled. He lived to see the raw prairie turned into fine farms and beautiful groves dot the landscape. He did his full share toward the transformation and he was proud of the results which have been achieved. Those who knew this good man will always cherish his friendship and remember him as a pioneer whose many virtues made the world a better place to live in.

Human sympathy can do little to allay the grief of the sorrowing widow and children, but they may feel sure the everyone in Summit and the surrounding country extends to them the most sincere sympathy and the hope that He who controls our destinies will alleviate their sorrow.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Gugin of Corona officiating. A short service was held at the home and public services at the Methodist Church. Special music was provided. Seldom has there been such a large gathering to pay their last respects to a citizen. Old friends and neighbors from the country and town were alike anxious to do honor to this good man. The floral offerings were many and beautiful beyond description. After the church service the cortege drove to the Antelope Valley Cemetery in Mazeppa. A

September 1930 Summit Independent: Mrs. Katherine Fransen Dies 87 year old Woman Passes Away Monday Paralytic Stroke Causes Death

Mrs. Katherine Fransen, who has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. C.D. Stoddard, passed away Monday morning, September 9th.

Mrs. Fransen was nearly 87 years of age and she had not been well for some time. A paralytic stroke was the immediate cause of her death. The funeral will be held at the Summit Lutheran church this Thursday afternoon, Rev. Ness officiating.

Katherine Hambling was born November 11, 1842 in Schleswig, Holstein, Germany. She died Sept 9th, 1929 at Summit, South Dakota. She was married to Henning Fransen in 1865 and in 1891(error) the young couple came to America. In 1882 they settled in Mazeppa township, Grant county, and were among the earliest settlers in that township. The husband died in 1888 and Mrs. Fransen made her home with her son Chris, until she came to Summit. To the union we born five children, three of who are living, they are Mrs. C.D. Stoddard, Frank, and Chris Fransen. There are ten grandchildren, and twenty-six great-grand children.

The deceased was a life long Lutheran and she lead a Christian life. Her tastes were domestic and her life was devoted to her home and family. She endured all the hardships incident to pioneer life with fortitude and lived to see what was once a vast prairie grow into a settled community. Many of her old neighbors have preceded her to the Great Beyond, but those who are left will miss her kindly greeting.

Mrs. Fransen will be long remembered as one of that sterling band of pioneers whose industry and foresight had made this section of South Dakota what it is today.

United in Holy Wedlock, to Mrs. Elizabeth Schaffer, formerly of Ortonville, Minnesota.

When one of the most popular and highly respected bachelors in the entire vicinity comes to town and buys a box of cigars and a box of candy and passes out cigars with the information he has just been married, the source of the news should be authentic enough to warrant publication in a newspaper, even if it is as careful as the Independent. This is exactly what Chris Fransen, of Mazeppa did Tuesday night.

We have done our best to get the details, but Chris and his bride did not take a hand along so our best detective had fallen sown on the job. However, as we have it, Mr. Chris Fransen, an old and popular resident of the Summit vicinity, was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Schaffer, formerly of Ortonville, but recently living in Mazeppa. Those who have met the bride speak of her in the highest terms. Mr. Fransen needs no introduction to Independent readers. George Stoddard was born at Zumbrota, Minnesota, May 20th, 1839 and died at his home in Mazeppa township, Grant county, Monday, April 23rd, 1934. His father was Rev. Albin Stoddard, who was a pioneer of Mazeppa township in 1881 in his early manhood and filed on a homestead upon which he resided until his death. March 23, 1886 he was married to Eliza Fransen and to them were born three children, Ali, who is a resident of Mazeppa, Mrs. Leroy Steenberg of Summit and Mrs. Frank Leffingwell, of Aberdeen. Mrs. Eliza Stoddard passed away July 3, 1892. Mr. Stoddard lived alone on his homestead until Dec 25, 1900 when he married Mrs. Rose Beal. To them were born four children, Mrs. Paul Schliesman, of Corona, Mrs. Herbert Wartenbee of Milbank, Curtis and Zela at home. There are two stepchildren, Harry Beal of Pactola, S. Dak and Mrs. Peter Lausen of Larens, Ia, and he has 18 grandchildren.

The deceased leaves beside his sorrowing widow and children a sister, Mrs. Ida Emery of Eugene, Oregon. Two brothers, Eugene and Curtis, died a few years ago.

The funeral was held at the home and at the Summit Methodist Church Thursday, April 26, Rev J. R. Spiller preached the funeral sermon and a special choir furnished some appropriate selections. The interment was in the Mazeppa cemetery. There was a very large gathering of old friends at the funeral, including a delegation from Milbank. They were Dr Flett, Sheriff Wilson, J.W. Liggett, S. Seldon, C.S. Amsden. Relatives from away who were at the funeral were Mrs. P. Lausen, Laurens, Ia, Harry Beal, Pactola, S. Dakota, Mrs. Tom Olson, Miss Bertha Stoddard and Mrs. Nancy Stoddard of Canby, Minnesota. There were many floral offerings including a beautiful wreath given by the business men of Summit.

From the time of his first settlement in the new west George took an active interest in public affairs. It was his suggestion which resulted in the newly organized township being named Mazeppa and he was one of the town officers elected at the first meeting. Later he held many township offices always with credit. He was elected county Commissioner in the '90's and in 1910 he was elected to the State Legislature, he was re-elected in 1913. During his long residence he held many other positions of trust and in all of them he gave the best he had.

He was a kind a loving husband and father and a true friend. His disposition was always genial and he was sympathetic to a degree. He had a warm heart and no deserving cause appealed to him in vain. Few men in Grant County had so many friends and held them so firmly. He was a life-long republican.

He was a Christian and took interest in church work. In the death of this good citizen the west part of Grant county has lost a firm friend and his memory will be cherished by all who know him. A well-guarded secret wedding came to light this week with the announcement of the marriage of Julia Morrissey of this city, and Maurice Van Cleve of Wilmot, which took place at the St Lawrence Parish house in Milbank on June 9th, 1935, over a year ago. Rev Fr Paul Quinn performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Cleve were attended by the bride's sister, Mary, and Jack Heubner. The Independent wishes these young couples well in their matrimonial venture, and together with the rest of the community, a long and happy wedding life. (this was one of three marriages reported on this date)
